Presentation 1

My experience working on this assignment was excellent. I learned more about the webservice.js open framework. I used API's call and more interesting features in my presentation. It helped learn more about World Wide Web and my experience with World Wide Web. I was able to host my website locally and on the public internet. I think I'm also understanding and learning more about internet itself. I hope to learn a lot more about internet programming and I'm planning to explore more of the webservice.js frame work in my upcoming presentations.
